

Beth Lipson

Chief Financial Officer

Beth joined OFN in 1997 and currently serves as Chief Financial Officer, where she is responsible for managing OFN's Finance and Accounting team and OFN's Development team. She is responsible for OFN's capital, finances and budgets, compliance, grants, and risk management.

In her 20-year tenure, Beth has worked on OFN's Financial Services team for nine years and worked as the CFO for 5 years. She also created the role of EVP, Strategic Initiatives in 2012 working to develop and execute key cross-functional industry initiatives, including the NEXT Awards and Create Jobs for US. Beth also serves on OFN's Investment Committee.

Beth has an MBA from the Wharton School and a BA from University of Pennsylvania, and her previous work experiences include valuing businesses at Coopers and Lybrand and researching trends in savings and loans at the Federal Reserve Board.

Employee at OFN since 5/12/1997